Sorry if somebody has pointed this out.

I always try new Ultimate++ version.
It would be nice if there is a browse button to browse for myapps folder location when installing Ultimate++.

Thanks.

I'm currently trying to improve installation process of theIDE:

1. Add several editfields to XInstallLayout dialog for specifying installation folder and assembly mappings,

2. Add commandline option -install to theIDE (if not already exists),

3. Detect currently used version and installed one and

4. Generate *.var files according to inputs from XInstall dialog.

I hope I finish soon and Mirek is willing to incorporate the patches.
