Subject: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by nixnixnix on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 17:30:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

something that shows how to initialise and fill it with data (and maybe some colour buttons or something like that) [I have an array of structs which have int,string,color,double so thats why i wanna use this ctrl but I cant find any basic howto]

thanks

nick

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by nixnixnix on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 17:44:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Ok, I found the example AddressBook but this really avoids the whole area of what the arrayctrl is meant to be able to do. There is no inplace editing, no droplists or colour buttons or any of the things that are touched on so briefly but tantalisingly in the documentation.

Does anyone have example code for the arrayctrl which appears in the documentation - the one with the little color boxes? I want to be able to display the colour attributed to each record and to change a value associated with it. Its not at all clear to me whether I implement everything myself or whether its possible to do it all with built in functionality.

cheers,

nick

Do I need to use the Gridctrl instead?

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by forlano on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 20:15:03 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

nixnixnix wrote on Fri, 02 March 2007 18:44Ok, I found the example AddressBook but this really avoids the whole area of what the arrayctrl is meant to be able to do. There is no inplace editing, no droplists or colour buttons or any of the things that are touched on so briefly but tantalisingly in the documentation.

Does anyone have example code for the arrayctrl which appears in the documentation - the one with the little color boxes? I want to be able to display the colour attributed to each record and to change a value associated with it. Its not at all clear to me whether I implement everything myself or whether its possible to do it all with built in functionality.

cheers,

nick

Do I need to use the Gridctrl instead?

Hi,

this thread http://www.ultimatepp.org/forum/index.php?t=msg&th=234&a mp;start=0& deal with the color of the cell. There is even a working example that show how to use the Display class. Let us know if it is useful.

Luigi

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by nixnixnix on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 21:08:18 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yes thanks, with addition of

ink = paper = (Color)q;

In PaintBackground() and Paint() overrides, I can now make a Color value field display as a filled rect of that color

Now I just need to work out how to edit a value - saw it somewhere....

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by forlano on Fri, 02 Mar 2007 21:22:27 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

nixnixnix wrote on Fri, 02 March 2007 22:08Yes thanks, with addition of

ink = paper = (Color)q;

In PaintBackground() and Paint() overrides, I can now make a Color value field display as a filled rect of that color

Now I just need to work out how to edit a value - saw it somewhere....

There is the package ArrayCtrlEdit in reference.

Luigi

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by mirek on Sat, 03 Mar 2007 08:49:58 GMT

nixnixnix wrote on Fri, 02 March 2007 12:30something that shows how to initialise and fill it with data (and maybe some colour buttons or something like that) [I have an array of structs which have int,string,color,double so thats why i wanna use this ctrl but I cant find any basic howto]

thanks

nick

OK, I have added one for you:

http://www.ultimatepp.org/reference$ArrayCtrl.html

MIrek

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by zsolt on Sat, 03 Mar 2007 10:00:41 GMT

and if you need coloring only, AttrText will be useful also.
You can put it to arrayctrl as value.

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by nixnixnix on Tue, 06 Mar 2007 16:07:32 GMT

Nice example - thanks! What about adding it to the examples page? I can't be the only dumbass who would appreciate that.

Nick

Subject: Re: just looking for a basic arrayctrl example please
Posted by mirek on Thu, 08 Mar 2007 13:17:35 GMT

I posted you a link to examples page

Mirek