In Topic++ can you export more than just a single page to PDF? Can I select the pages I want exported so that they are all created for me in 1 document instead of trying to export every single page and then merging the pdf documents?

Not yet, sorry. One of those small issues that are too unimportant to resolve... (workaround: paste to UWord and export Pdf from there...).

Which OS are you running on? There are some post-processing tools in linux that might help. I know that for one of my projects I use pdf2ps then a psbook/pstops/psnup chain to bust out pages then reorganize them in a 4x2 pages a side...

Hope that helps.

I need the functionality on Windows (what I have at work). I use linux tools at home to merge pdfs, but there is nothing free that I have found for Windows I can't stand that either.

I personally use Free PDF XP

http://freepdfxp.de/fpxp.htm (I know the page is in German, but quite understandable)

I find it quite easy to use and well configurable.

Now you have some choice under Windows as well!
