Subject: Usc Execute("echo Ciao") headaches...

A macro like this doesn't work in theide :

```
macro "Salute" Ctrl+Alt+S {
    .Execute("echo Ciao")
}
```

You get only a MacroExecute: echo Ciao in the console, and nothing tells you the command actually didn't get executed.

To get things working it is necessary to call cmd, so this works

macro "Salute" Ctrl+Alt+S {
.Execute("cmd /C \"echo Ciao\" ")
```

This isn't very intuitive...

echo Ciao,
David
