I am now spending a bit of time improving a fileselector.

I have solved the "network" problem (for Win32 ATM).

Anyway, I have many ideas about what should be improved (as everybody here I think but quite limited time.

Which makes me think: FileSel is relatively separate module, maybe somebody could take over its development and make is the best fileselector around?

P.S.: I hate to say I quite like what they did to fileselector in Vista. Perhaps this is a reasonable start point...
