I have enhanced svn setup to automatically grant write rights to doc group for all '.tpp' directories (updated each hour based on current trunk content).

Therefore it should be now easily possible for people wishing to enhance documentation to do so without the risk of damaging the 'trunk'.

Anybody willing to have such write access to .tpp please PM me.

I'm interested! Not just right now.

I have to learn Ultimate++ first. I will send you a private message when ready. I just built and run TheIDE and compiled a few examples to see the result running.

I sent an rpm to Mandriva mailing list and played a bit with words to give people "desire". I'm still waiting for someone to take it into main stream.
