Excuse my being out of discussion lately. It took some time and efforts to start project (by the way, completely programmed with U++).
As I managed to notice from latest discussions, T++ is finally a priority and there`s a number of changes made and a number of changes planned. So I`d like to collect anything regarding to T++ upgrade. The idea is to create a roadmap. I hope this would help everyone with understanding the way T++ goes (and this way is very important IMO) as well as it informs on current T++ state.

So, OK. We have starting point:
1. Original T++ as it was for 2008.1.
A tree-list of topics inside src* woodoo-words.

I think it is good time and place to discuss 1.1, 1.2,.. 1.n items (changes made) as well as 2. (current T++ state) and 2.* items (changes planned for next-level T++).
Are you agree?
