oh, cool
are there any plans, when this will be released?

...and back to my question: is there a way to manualy calculate the height of the text inside a cell?
only normal text, but perhaps with newlines in it...

I can't tell it now - there are still many things to do, however I it should not be a long period, I need new features in my apps (like grouping)

GridDisplay calculates the height but this code can't be used outside. I'll try to separate it. I'll inform you soon if I succeded

Hello unodgs,

Is there any development on this, Auto height / getting height of text?

Also, could you please advise, where should this be defined:
#define flagGRIDSQL

Hello Uno

will love to have per column search/Filter.

Is it in your feature list?

Hello Uno,

ItemRect::WrapText() wrapping behaviour seems to break words at the end of lines, any advice on how to prevent that?
