Is the look better: Nov 26?

Also, if you like, from today you can choose themes (just 2 for now ... ) in user CP(control panel)

It is definitely getting better.

My last complaining is about the header part.

"menu should be here across the top"

looks pretty unprofessional

Would it be possible to move current upp.sf.net www site heading instead of current logo and "menu" there? It is designed to live with background you are using now.

Well.... one more thing - would it be possible to center forums? Aligning to the left looks again quite unfinished....

There is no menu text anymore! Where do you see it?

Please Refresh your browsers completely and on regular basis because I'm still improving the forums constantly.

Thank you,

its much better imho

26?

Show: Today's Messages :: Unread Messages :: Show Polls :: Message Navigator

anyway, i dont like this part. What about put first line to left and second to right. And let it stay in different rows.

Thank you for the idea.

I don't like the Navigation menu layout either. That's why I've tried to make it less visible for the time being... The problem is that it is generated as text with tooltips and database variables for each user and the original formatting is quite complicated comparing to other changes I did. But I'll try to experiment with one more theme very soon...

It's really better now!

The only problem is I have to be logged in to see new (much nicer) look.

My guess is that if you are experiencing not nice fonts and have to login - you are using M$ IE?
With Firefox you can be logged in automatically and have better fonts...

Well, I had to change my theme in settings to get the nice look.

<Curious>

Which theme is considered the "nice" look?

</Curious>

(I use ari_tmpl and like it).
