First, I am new to U++ and C++ though reasonably familiar with C. With that in mind, does anyone have a basic Microsoft SAPI example using U++, dictating into a RichText object?

Edit: Okay, I see that with the SAPI SDK installed, any application can be used for dictation (e.g., UWord). However, it appears that in UWord a space between words is not automatic. -- Still looking for what may be interesting examples of using the SAPI in the dictating context.a
