TheIDE is using NASM version 0.98.38, which is licensed under LGPL. Current version of NASM is 2.07, which is licensed under the Simplified (2-clause) BSD license.

IMO TheIDE could benefit from that.

Eh, better late than never...

I have upgraded to the latest NASM with BSD license.

Thanks for the tip.

Now going to figure out how to make it disassemble x64...
