Subject: TrayIcon for linux
Posted by aanand on Fri, 24 Mar 2006 08:38:15 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi All,
Will there be a TrayIcon interface for linux too? I just created a simple sticky notes application using upp in windows. Then I tried to compile it under linux but i got an error saying that there is no class def called TrayIcon.

Thanks

Subject: Re: TrayIcon for linux
Posted by mirek on Fri, 24 Mar 2006 08:47:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

aanand wrote on Fri, 24 March 2006 03:38Hi All,
Will there be a TrayIcon interface for linux too? I just created a simple sticky notes application using upp in windows. Then I tried to compile it under linux but i got an error saying that there is no class def called TrayIcon.

Thanks

I hope yes, there will be... Of course, community contribution here is welcome

Mirek

Subject: Re: TrayIcon for linux
Posted by 3togo on Wed, 10 May 2006 18:49:42 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have found one trayicon example using gtkmm but without configure files. Anyhow, I added them and uploaded below.

By using gtkmm lib, it should work both on Linux and WinXP

3togo

File Attachments

1) eggtraycpp.tar.gz, downloaded 1526 times