Subject: Find / Replace keyboard settings (and bug?)
Posted by ricper on Wed, 02 Dec 2009 15:28:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi to everybody,
I noticed a bug when setting a shortcut for the Find / Replace dialog.
I'm using the 1713 build actually.

Status:
I define a shortcut for the "find selected text". I press Ctrl + F int that editbox.
I cancel the predefined Ctrl + F assigned by default to "Find / Replace" from the corrisponding editbox.

Issue 1:
when I use my new kb shortcut, effectively I have my selected text in the find box, but the panel is configured for replacement. So if I press Enter the default action is to replace that text with the one contained in the replace text that is void. So the result is that every time I use this shortcut I cancel the selected text. I have to close that window and press F3 to find the text I want. It's very annoying to use the combination short + esc + f3.

Issue 2:
When I close / reopen the ide the default setting "Find / Replace" reappears whith a ctrl + f in the previously cancelled box

Anyway I think that theide rocks!
Keep up the good work!

Rick