I believe it is a bot... But I'd let him live, he posts funny pictures

Also, it is quite clever bot, I didn't notice until the third post. The sentences don't make much sense, but that is not uncommon on the forums. The thing that finally helped me to figure out it is not human was when used my own sentence in his last post

Honza

he seems funny
"You can put internal and external as you want to adapt. House is just another format. The only difference is that no internal moving data to the clipboard , so it does not define an external format." =))

i wonder if we could exploit this.
