Hi Friends..
I have 5 tabs and i have defined them in a class properly.. now i have to add 3 tabs inside each tab of 5 tabs i.e 3tabs inside every tab of 5 tabs..
Please tell the way to declare the classes for this child tabs present inside parent tabs... a simple example would be more than enough...

It is all the same, you just add another TabCtrl as "slave". Make it SizePos and you are done.

TabCtrl master;
TabCtrl slave;
master.Add("Slave", slave.SizePos());

I believe the correct code is TabCtrl master;
TabCtrl slave;

master.Add(slave.SizePos(),"Slave");
Mirek just accidentally swapped the two parameters

Hi Mirek and Honza,
  Thanks for the hint and correction... But my doubt is when u click a button, Master Tab is called and is set . Inside 1st tab of master there is a button. By clicking this button slave tab has to be called with in the 1st tab of master..
  Please give any hint or simple example

Please define what you mean by "call"

"Master Tab is called and is set"

"slave tab has to be called with in the 1st tab of master"
