Hi Mirek,

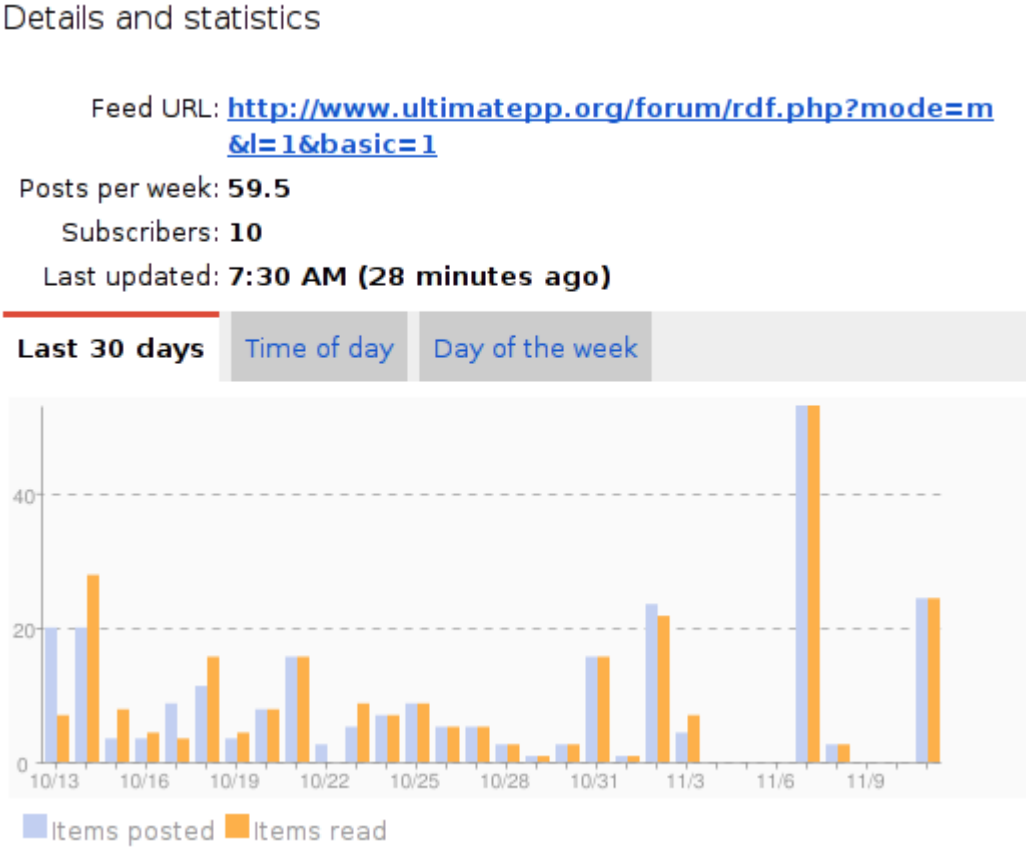

The RSS feed I'm using to keep track of messages on this forum suddenly started to act weird. I guess it might have something to do with the upgrades. The url I use is the one mentioned below the main category list: http://www.ultimatepp.org/forum/rdf.php?mode=m&l=1&b asic=1. In the past, it was updated very often, many times a day, so I had always fresh informations in my google reader. Now, it is only updated every couple of days, when a big bunch of all messages comes all at once. See the graph:

Could you have a look at the forum settings? Also, has anyone else met the same problem?

Best regards,
Honza

I did not even knew there is a RSS feed in the forum... Anyway, you can now look at the forum settings yourself

Cool, thanks Actually it's not RSS, but RDF... but the idea is the same

Anyway, it seems to work now, even though I haven't touch the settings. Maybe it was just some glitch in the reader, who knows...
