Depends on what it is supposed to do..

Anyway, the basic "plan" is simple

VScrollBar sb;
SomeCtrl   ctrl;
ctrl.AddFrame(sb);

Mirek,

Thanks; yes of course AddFrame(VScrollBar Ctrl here) works.

My question is (and this comes from the lack of info about Scroll control/s) how to add functionality to the scroll control once it is added as a frame to the StaticText Ctrl. An example about how to display a text and to scroll it with the embedded control would be great.
