Subject: New small hidden feature of ArrayCtrl
Posted by mirek on Fri, 19 Jul 2013 09:53:35 GMT

In debug mode, ArrayCtrl for a long time has had feature that clicking on header stores actual column widths/ratios on clipboard as ColumnsWidths call. This is great simple tool for setups of headers.

This is now supplemented with Alt+Click, which stores just individual column value.

Subject: Re: New small hidden feature of ArrayCtrl
Posted by koldo on Fri, 19 Jul 2013 10:59:08 GMT

Good.

Features as this one are useful in DEBUG mode.