

---

Subject: Updating sources more difficult than necessary

Posted by Alboni on Mon, 09 Nov 2015 12:55:44 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi,

I'm using the nightly linux version and when updating I have to click 200+ radiobuttons to get the sources updated because the default is to keep the old files. I think changing the default to use the new stuff and delete the old would be better, or at least have a button that would let me do that with one click, because I have no local modifications I'd like to keep.

---

---

Subject: Re: Updating sources more difficult than necessary

Posted by dolik.rce on Mon, 09 Nov 2015 14:04:50 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Alboni wrote on Mon, 09 November 2015 13:55Hi,

I'm using the nightly linux version and when updating I have to click 200+ radiobuttons to get the sources updated because the default is to keep the old files. I think changing the default to use the new stuff and delete the old would be better, or at least have a button that would let me do that with one click, because I have no local modifications I'd like to keep.

Hi Alboni,

Have you tried right click on the dialog? There should be an option to change all of them at once. I think the defaults were chosen to be always the "safest" possible option.

Alternatively, you can always use command line svn client to upgrade...

Best regards,
Honza

---