Hello,

I would like to inform that I manage to bring google mock into bazaar. It requires plugin/gtest to run (also ported - please read my announcement).

Google mock allows you to write mocks for your class. It is mainly used in advanced unit testing scenarios. For example you can mock socket and simulate data receive from network in your unit test.

Comments are welcome and do not forget to check this plugin ;)

More information about google mock you can find on following page:

Sincerely,
Klugier
