Description

Still on UHD: Would it be possible to make PromptOK() -- and similar dialogs -- larger in UHD context, in order to fit the larger text better inside the popup dialog? Currently lines that would have previously fitted on one line are split to two lines making the dialog look a bit weird. Slightly longer messages extend to multiple lines and invoke a scroll bar to allow reading the full content. This would not be necessary in many cases if the dialog was scaled according to the font size.
