Description
hello, at the bottom of this page : http://www.ultimatepp.org/srcdoc$CtrlLib$Tutorial$en-us.html the link Core value types tutorial - learn basics about non user U++ related code. seems not well formatted, and is not working (at least in my webbrowser FF53.0). I think it may lead to: http://www.ultimatepp.org/srcdoc$Core$Tutorial$en-us.html and not topic://Core/srcdoc/CoreTutorial$en-us as it is. and Ultimate++'s team email upp@ntllib.org as seen here : http://www.ultimatepp.org/app$ide$About$en-us.html throw back this error I'm sorry to have to inform you that your message could not be delivered to one or more recipients. It's attached below. For further assistance, please send mail to postmaster. If you do so, please include this problem report. You can delete your own text from the attached returned message. The mail system &lt;upp@ntllib.org>; mail for ntllib.org loops back to myself best regards
