Description
Documentation rectangles are not display in the header files. It makes analyzing header file much more difficult. It is regression to the previous versions, however I can not find the version which brings regression. It is reproducible on Windows and Linux. It should be fixed as fast as possible. We need to make sure it will be part of 2021.1 release. I rated it as urgent.

works for me

are you aware that it takes a while after starting the ide for them to show up?

it is because processing is done in background

#4 - 02/15/2021 01:13 AM - Zbigniew Rebacz

- Status changed from New to Rejected

I was not aware about background task. I must go directly after launching TheIDE to the Core/String.h and doesn't find any documentation link (rectangle).

Probably, it can be improved, but forcing to load after opening certain file. Anyway, no urgent
