I have delayed this, because while a very good idea with a trivial implementation, I was not quite sure what link(s) to include. Here comes my first attempt...

OK, but I think we will achieved better result by doing something like this:

```
void Ide::HelpMenu(Bar& menu)
{
    menu.Add(AK_BROWSETOPICS, Idelmg::help(), THISBACK(ShowTopics)); menu.Add(AK_SEARCHTOPICS, THISBACK(SearchTopics)); menu.Add(AK_BROWSETOPICS_WIN, Idelmg::help_win(), THISBACK(ShowTopicsWin));
    if(menu.IsMenuBar()) {
        menu.Separator();
        menu.Add("Get help / report bugs..", Idelmg::Go_forward(), callback1(LaunchWebBrowser, "http://www.ultimatepp.org/forums"));
        menu.Add("Online documentation..", Idelmg::Go_forward(), callback1(LaunchWebBrowser, "http://www.ultimatepp.org/www$upweb$documentation$en-us.html"));
        menu.Add("Common information..", Idelmg::Go_forward(), callback1(LaunchWebBrowser, "http://www.ultimatepp.org/www$upweb$community$en-us.html"));
    }
    if(menu.IsMenuBar())
        menu.Separator();
    menu.Add("About..", THISBACK(About));

This operation should be definitely hide only in bar and it should be placed after core help function.

Fine, but can we change order? ("...it should be placed after core help function." - my last message in this topic). It is maybe not critical, but it sticks to the convention (Core help function first).
